

SUN WEST SCHOOL DIVISION

Success for all

Media Release
October 20, 2009
For Immediate Release

TRACY DOLLANSKY TO BECOME SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION

As of November 1, 2009, Tracy Dollansky, the current principal at Walter Aseltine School in Rosetown, will succeed Daryl Arnott as a Sun West School Division Superintendent of Education. Arnott superannuated earlier in October and finished work with Sun West on October 16, 2009. Dollansky will take responsibility for schools in the central portion of the Sun West School Division. These schools are Landis School, Biggar Central School 2000, North West Central School in Plenty, Harris-Tessier Central School in Harris, Rosetown Central High School, Walter Aseltine School in Rosetown, D'Arcy School, Eston Composite School, as well as other reassigned schools. The superintendent roles will be slightly adjusted to respond to the new assignment.

Dollansky has a distinguished career as an educator and brings a wealth of experience to the position of Superintendent of Education. After receiving her Bachelor of Education in 1982 from the University of Saskatchewan, she taught at Landis School from 1982 to 1985 and at the former Biggar Elementary School from 1985 to 2000. She earned a Masters of Education Degree from the University of Saskatchewan in 1997 and became Principal of Biggar Elementary School in 1998 and when BCS 2000 was created, she became Vice-Principal of the new school. In 2008, she became Principal of Walter Aseltine School in Rosetown. Tracy has been a leader in a number of Sun West projects, she has chaired the Teacher Professional Practice Committee and been a member of the School-based Administrators' Professional Practice Committee.

"Tracy brings a great combination of talents and experience to the position of Superintendent," explained Director of Education Janet Casswell-Beckmann, "she has taught in almost all subject areas from grades K-10, has worked in both high school and elementary environments and has strong administrative credentials. She will add a lot to our team and everyone is very excited to start working with her." (Photograph of Tracy Dollansky enclosed)

For more information contact:

Janet Casswell-Beckmann, Director of Education,

Ph: 1-866-375-2677; e-mail: janet.casswell-beckmann@sunwestsd.ca